RAILROADS FACE A CRISIS DUE TO OVERCAPITALIZATION, SAYS PRESIDENT SWITCHMEN'S UNION

Regional Conferences Between Railroad And Union Officials Futile In Labor Crisis—Employees Cannot Afford To Accept Another Wage Cut, Says Cashen

ELECTION RESULTS ANNOUNCED AT Y. W. ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING TUES. EVE.

More than two hundred people attended the second annual membership meet of the local Young Woman's Christian Association, held Tuesday evening, in the First Presbyterian church.

The result of the election held in the association rooms Saturday was announced at this meeting. The following people were elected to serve for a term of three years on the board of directors: Mrs. Frank E. Pomeroy, Mrs. Fred S. Wallace, Mrs. Chester A. Smith, Mrs. Carl Meade, Miss Carrie B. Glass, Miss Ona Northup, Miss Grace I. Carr and Miss Imogene Dawson. The three candidates elected for the same term to serve on the Advisory Committee were Mrs. Clyde Barnes, C. R. Frederickson and C. B. Hunt.

The annual reports of the various committees were printed on small folders and distributed among those attending. The finance committee announces a balance of more than $1,000 under the estimate of the yearly budget.

The Coshocton Y. W. C. A. embraces a membership of 124 members, of whom 594 are employed girls and women and high school girls, the rest being women of the home.

Probably one of the biggest things of the organization last year was the formation of the Blue Triangle Federation, which includes four large clubs for girls and three clubs for Girl Reserves. The latter is subdivided into two groups, two clubs for high school girls and one for eighth grade students.

The General Education committee announced their plans for an open forum program, "Know Coshocton," to be held every other Tuesday, beginning February 7.

Following two especially clever stunts, given by the delegates to the Oxford Conference last June and those attending the Granville Conference in the summer, Miss Anna Caldwell, field finance secretary, with headquarters at Cincinnati, gave a splendid address. The underlying theme was the advantage of true Christian Fellowship. She spoke at length on the work of the association in the foreign fields of China, Japan, Russia and even in South America.

She also spoke very highly of the Coshocton association which recently sent $200 for work in the foreign fields.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, Friday evening at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of reorganization, as the officers of the board are also to serve as officers of the association.

JOHN SHELHORN IS BURIED, BLISSFIELD

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Evangelical church at Blissfield for John Shelhorn, aged 73, who died at his home three miles from Blissfield, Thursday. Burial was made in the Blissfield cemetery.

He was born in Holmesco, April 16, 1848. He was united in marriage with Mary Jane Fortune, November 28, 1870. To this union were born twelve children, five sons and one daughter of that number preceding the father to the grave during infancy. Those surviving are J. G. Shelhorn, of Seville, O.; Mrs. C. R. Winslow, of Millersburg; Mrs. W. G. Bower, Mrs. H. W. Brillhart, Mrs. C. M. Parker, Mrs. H. J. Miser, all of whom reside in Coshocton-co. Two great-grandchildren. Three brothers and four sisters, Gideon Shelhorn, of Richmond, O.; Mrs. Charles Sheldon, of Brink Haven; Mrs. B. B. Brillhart, of Warsaw; Samuel Shelhorn, Peter Shelhorn, Mrs. John Featherow, Mrs. Alex Snow, all live in Killbuck. The widow survives.

Mr. Shelhorn united with the Evangelical Pleasant Hill church nearly fifty years ago.

FORMER ACTRESS SUES N. Y. BISHOP: ALLEGES CONSPIRACY TO HURT NAME

Mrs. Marion McAllister Smith.

Mrs. Marion McAllister Smith, former actress and daughter-in-law of the late Governor Smith of Rhode Island, has sued Rev. Herbert Shipman, suffragan bishop of New York, for $50,000 damages. She alleges conspiracy by the bishop and other prominent persons to blacken her reputation. She says they represented her to be a French adventuress. The bishop emphatically denies the charges.

ZERO MARK IS TOUCHED EARLY THIS MORNING

Wednesday morning was the coldest this year so far, according to the weather observer, Mrs. Ada Jeffries, Bridge-st.

It is believed that the mercury registered zero from midnight until early this morning. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, the thermometer registered 3 above the cypher.

In many places in the county, it was reported from zero to four and five below.

MARSH HAS SLIGHT HOPE FOR FARMER'S RELIEF BY PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National Council, holds out little hope that the farmers will gain anything thru Secretary Wallace's conference on the crisis in Agriculture here. Marsh finds that the "allied" interests that are represented in the gathering are so powerful, and so hostile to the interests of the men whose labor produces the nation's food supply, that the whole enterprise is doomed from the start.

Among these anti-farmer conferees Marsh names J. Ogden Armour and Louis C. Swift, meat packers; Robert McDougall, president of the Chicago Board of Trade; Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange; George N. Peck, representative of the Farm Implement Manufacturers; C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railway; C. B. Merriam, president of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association; Frederick B. Wells and James F. Bell, grain dealer and banker, respectively, representing the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce; Edward S. Butler, president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange; A. L. Goetzman, representing the Millers' National Federation; W. Dubois Brookings, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Geo. Woodruff of the American Bankers' Association.

Only half a dozen spokesmen of progressive farm leaders and progressive farm editors are included in the long list of conferees.

"The bankers, farm implement and fertilizer manufacturers, the packers, the railroads, the live stock exchanges, the millers and grain dealers and the cotton exchanges, plus the real estate speculators," says Marsh, "exact an annual tribute over and above all services rendered, which costs the farmers of America at least $3,250,000,000 a year, or over half of the total amount which farmers received for their crops in 1921."

LIFE OF COSHOCTON CO. COUPLE MOVES EDITOR TO EULOGIZE

"No Parting There." Under this heading there appeared in the Cleveland News Thursday evening a pleasing story of peace and happiness, wound around the notice of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Branstool, both 80 years of age, which occurred at their home near Walhonding last Thursday.

It is a story replete with human interest, and as such is considered worthy of reproduction here.

Would you read something different? Are you weary of stories about politics and diplomacy, industry and unemployment, accusations and re-accusations? Could you welcome, as we did, a little newspaper story having nothing to do with accident and crime, war and finance, the deaths of the great, the outlook for business, the foibles of the conspicuous, suffering, philanthropy, strikes, speeches and all the familiar grist of the journalistic mill? Then read again as much as the dispatches told of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Branstool.

It was not much. They had been husband and wife for fifty-nine years. For thirty-six years they had lived in the same home, near Walhonding in Coshocton-co. They had eleven children, eight of whom still live. But Mr. and Mrs. Branstool, each of them eighty years old, at length surrendered to the infirmities of age. The husband died the other morning; the wife died that evening.

The life they had led we can imagine with certitude. It was full of hard work and welcome rest, as life usually is in the country or in the city. Probably they had more worry and less play than most of us. They found great pleasure and comfort in their children, especially while they were little. But three times they were bowed in sorrow for a son or a daughter lying dead.

Of course they had fond hopes, not all of them ending in bitter disappointment. (Continued on Page Five)

HOME IS ROBBED WHILE RESIDENTS WERE ELSEWHERE

The list of robberies in Coshocton and Coshocton-co is increasing daily. Tuesday evening the home of Harry Williamson, 414 Locust-st. was entered, and an attempt was made to enter the home of Seldon McCormick, one door west of the Williamson home.

Several articles of jewelry and a small amount of money was taken from the Williamson home.

The glass in the front door of the McCormick home was broken but the burglars were apparently frightened away before they entered.

Entrance to the Williamson home was obtained by unlocking the rear door of the residence.

Police were notified of the robbery at 10:30 Tuesday evening. Neither of the families was at home when the robbery occurred.

SECY. MELLON OPPOSES THE BONUS PLANS OF CONGRESS

Treasury Head Believes The Country's Finances Will Not Stand Drain

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The dark picture of the nation's finances drawn by Secretary Mellon and the hard jolt he administered to the Republican plan for a soldiers' bonus financed by taxation and the foreign debt, threw grim shadows over a joint meeting today of the Republican steering committees of the senate and house which was held in an attempt to break the legislative log-jam confronting congress.

Mellon's renewed opposition to a soldiers' bonus did not surprise the Republican leaders committed to one. Mellon has repeatedly opposed a soldiers' bonus on the grounds that the country cannot afford one, and that if one were undertaken it would result in disastrous financial consequences.

But it proved disconcerting to the Republican leaders, when they are seeking to push thru legislation coupling the funding of the foreign debt with a soldiers' bonus, to have the secretary of the treasury warn them sharply that no indirect means of financing a soldiers' bonus by using the principal or interest of the foreign debt could make it any less an expense which will have to be borne in the long run by the taxpayer.

They found his blunt declaration that such means would jeopardize the refunding of liberty bonds, Victory notes, certificates of indebtedness and other outstanding obligations of the government, running into billions, equally embarrassing despite the knowledge they had previously that he was prepared to again stand in the way of the Republican pledge for adjusted compensation for ex-service men.

They were insistent however, that a way must be found for carrying out that pledge despite the serious obstacles suddenly conjured by Mellon, and the Republican steering committees bent themselves to the task of working out legislative programs upon which the senate and house might both agree. The thot of this year's congressional elections, and of the effect of a Republican failure to put thru a soldiers' bonus would have upon them, was uppermost in the minds of not only the party "whips" but of the Republican rank and file of both chambers.

KEENE GRANGE IS ENTERTAINED AT BETHLEHEM HALL

One hundred and eighty members of Keene and Bethlehem granges enjoyed an oyster supper at the Bethlehem grange hall Tuesday evening. It marked the culmination of the rat hunt staged by the two organizations in which the Keene grange came off winner. Bethlehem grange was host at the supper.

Following the supper the evening was enjoyed informally in games and music.

VACCINATION WILL NOT BE ORDERED

Vaccination of the city school children to protect against an epidemic of smallpox, will probably not be required, according to the statement made by a member of the city school board Wednesday.

The meeting to consider proposed compulsory vaccination was postponed for the second time Tuesday evening. The proposal will probably not be taken up until the regular meeting of the school board Friday evening.

Power to require vaccination of school children is possessed by the school board, but has never yet been put into use.

The proposal to do so was made by Glenn E. Smith, city health officer, in compliance with directions from the state health department to prepare for a smallpox epidemic which is feared.

HER STAGE KISSES WERE TOO TORRID, SAYS HER HUSBY

Edith Day Carlton.

Carle E. Carlton, theatrical producer, has filed suit in New York for divorce against Edith Day Carlton, former star of "Irene." Carlton says, among other things, that his wife's kisses and embraces as "Irene" were too intense and prolonged. Fat Somerset, son of Lord Somerset, was the recipient of these caresses. Miss Day denies the charges.

BILL WOULD REQUIRE 7 TO 2 VOTE OF THE SUP. CT. JUSTICES TO NULLIFY A LAW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Representative J. J. McSwain of South Carolina, who has joined Representative Huddleston of Alabama in the class of liberal Southern Democrats in the House, has introduced a bill providing that no act of Congress may be nullified by the Supreme Court unless by the affirmative vote of seven or more of the nine justices of that court. His measure, as he told the House, is brought forward because of the 5 to 4 decision in the Truax picketing case, in which the majority of the court held that a restaurant owner, picketed by a union may recover for damage done to the volume of his business.

McSwain recalled that 5 to 4 decisions of the Supreme Court had overthrown the original Income Tax law, the Child Labor law and many other measures which expressed the moral determination of the people. One justice in the court, by throwing a decision one way or the other, exercises more authority than does the President of the United States who signs the bill, although the president represents the will of at least half the people of the nation.

New Machine Is Endangered By Fire

URBANA, O., Jan. 25.—Equipment for a new process in crude oil refining was housed in the main building of the oil refining and development company which was destroyed by fire here today. Damage to the building is estimated at $10,000, covered by insurance. The equipment belonged to Dr. C. B. Forward.

Most of the valuable refining apparatus was protected by heavy asbestos coverings and is not that greatly damaged.

Would Impeach Dry Commissioner

COLUMBUS, Jan. 25.—That Gov. Davis institute impeachment proceedings against Judge Don V. Parker, Columbus, state prohibition enforcement commissioner is the request in a petition filed at the governor's office today by the Good Citizenship League, Hamilton-co thru the organization's secretary, Attorney George C. Hawk, Cincinnati.

The petition alleges Commissioner Parker should be removed because of inefficiency and neglect of duty.

Reconciliation Between Vatican And Quirinal Is Believed Due For Consummation With The Election Of An Italian Pontiff—Conclave Of Cardinals Is Set For Feb. 2; May Be Postponed

ROME, Jan. 25.—As the year in state period of the late pope drew to a close today, heated controversy arose over church politics and the policy pursued by Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, towards the Italian government.

Members of the Italian parliament, who are not affiliated with the clerical party, have prepared a series of interpellations for Premier Banoni, demanding a full explanation of the attitude of the quirinal toward the vatican.

Bitter comment appeared in the press, certain newspapers accusing Cardinal Gasparri of having officiously communicated news of the pontiff's death to the Italian government, thus renewing diplomatic relations which had been severed since 1870.

The pope's body was given another injection of embalming fluid at dawn. Afterwards a congregation of cardinals was held and it was decided tentatively that St. Peter's cathedral, where the body has been lying in state since Monday afternoon, should be closed to the public at 3 o'clock.

It was stated that the cardinals had not yet reached a definite decision as to when the three caresses should be soiled for entombment in a crypt.

There is growing belief that the conclave of cardinals which was originally set for February 2, will be postponed a few days to enable the American and other cardinals coming from far away places to participate in the papal election.

Interest in the election, however, centers, for the most part, on the sensational allegations that have been made in the press regarding the use of money. The Giornale d'Italia alleges that five million lire were deposited in a Rome bank to support propaganda in favor of the election of an Italian pope.

The Popolo Romano accuses Merry DelVal of engineering a plot among cardinals for the election of a German pope, thus preventing reconciliation between the vatican and the Italian state.

This paper says only an Italian pope can bring about such a reconciliation. The Tribune quoted an unnamed cardinal who says he is disgusted at the way things are being run.

"I cannot hide my disgust," said this cardinal. "In America the way is prepared for a presidential election with newspaper campaigns, backed up with funds of millions of dollars. That should never happen in the election of a pope."

The prince of Piedmont, heir to the Italian throne, accompanied by Admiral Bonaldi, visited St. Peter's cathedral and knelt before the catafalque containing the body of the late pope. After paying homage they departed for the quirinal. This was accepted as further evidence that complete reconciliation between the vatican and the Italian state is at hand. It is believed that if Cardinal Maffia, archbishop of Pisa is chosen pope, the final ceremonies restoring the old time relations will have been effected before the end of 1922. Cardinal Maffia is personally well known to King Victor Emmanuel, having acted as confidential messenger for the vatican in the past.

ROME, Jan. 25.—The entombment of the mortal remains of Pope Benedict XV, will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. It was announced at the vatican today.

The decision to hold the funeral tomorrow was taken by a congregation of cardinals while the body was lying in state in the basilica of St. Peter's today.

MRS. FRANK REDDICK GRANTED A DIVORCE

Cora Reddick has been granted a divorce from Frank Reddick on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty in the probate court.

The plaintiff was granted custody of the one child and the defendant was ordered by the court to pay $12 a month for the support of the child.

C. O. Turner represented the plaintiff.

LAFOLLETTE FIGHTS DAUGHERTY'S EFFORT ON PACKERS' BEHALF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Senator LaFollette has raised in the senate the issue as to the right of Attorney General Daugherty to modify the consent decree filed in the federal court here in 1919, whereby the Big Five meat packers were bound to get rid of their majority stock in scores of manufacturing and commercial lines unrelated to the meat packing business. In consideration of the making of this agreement in the form of a court decree, the packers were relieved of most of the effective Federal regulation which was proposed in the packer control bill then before Congress. Now they seek the dissolution of the agreement thru a modification of the decree.

In a resolution (S. Rec. 211) LaFollette sets forth the history of the decree, and of the reorganizations which have followed, and which he declares have included evasions of the decree. His resolution proposes: "That it is the sense of the Senate that the Attorney General should not, without specific authorization of Congress, advocate nor consent to any modification of the decree already entered in this cause, and that the Committee on Agriculture be authorized and directed to investigate this entire matter and recommend to the Senate what action it deems necessary in the premises."

Senator Norris is chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. It is his committee's authorized to investigate this attempt to break down the decree and maintain the Big Five packers in their food marketing combine, he will spare nobody high lobbyist or low. The agricultural bloc in Congress is back of LaFollette's resolution.

Funeral Is On

ROME, Jan. 24.—The traditional nine days' funeral ceremonies for the late Pope Benedict XV began at 9:30 o'clock this morning, when mass was celebrated by the senior canon of St. Peter's cathedral.

The burial of the pontiff will not take place until tomorrow and the body will remain in state in the basilica of St. Peter until noon Wednesday.

As the requiem mass was celebrated this morning, the Julian choir sang softly in the chapel.

BIRTH NOTE

A daughter was born Monday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kanuckie, of Warsaw.

We desire to thank friends and neighbors for help and flowers given and donors of cars; also Rev. Dite for his comforting words during the sickness and death of our little son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Shaw and family.

ECENTRIC DANCERS HIGH SPOT IN THE RAINBOW GIRL SHOW

Comparing favorably in every respect with "Irene" and other previous high class musical comedies, with the exception of the dancing, which was superior to that of "Irene" and other shows here, "The Rainbow Girl" delighted a fairly good sized audience at the Sixth Street theatre Monday night.

The clever eccentric dancing of Miss Gaby Leslie and Mr. Joseph Daniels thruout the play last evening was the outstanding feature of "The Rainbow Girl." Miss Leslie and Mr. Daniels "stopped the show" in one of their clever dances. Their dancing specialties were something unusual and never before seen here. Daisy Meade—a soubrette, Miss Kathryn Gorman, was also a clever dancer.

The comedian of the show was Buck Evans, (a Bishop of New Zealand.) William Clifton. Mr. Clifton is a real artist and kept the audience vibrating from curtain to curtain.

WILL NEWT BAKER OPPOSE POMERENE FOR DEM. SENATOR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Republican politicians at the capitol believe that Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of war, is grooming himself to run against Senator Pomerene for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio, and that former Vice President Marshall will try his luck in Indiana, where Senator New and ex-Senator Beveridge are Republican candidates. Republicans are watching with mixed emotions the enthusiasm of former beneficiaries of the Wilson regime in boosting the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. They suggest that the thousands of regular Democrats who marched on a downtown theater here the other day to the home of the former president, had an eye slanted toward the 1922 congressional elections, and that the foundation is being laid to hold an otherwise top-heavy structure of which Mitchell Palmer, Thomas Marshall and the managers of the Democratic campaign of 1920 are the chief pillars.

RE-APPRAISEMENT OF COUNTY REAL ESTATE TO BE ARGUED FEB. 8

Notice of a hearing on the proposal to re-appraise the real estate of Coshocton-co, to be held in the commissioner's office in the courthouse Wednesday morning, February 8, at 10 o'clock, was issued Tuesday morning.

The hearing followed the finding of the county auditor in which he states that the real estate in the various taxing districts of the county is not listed at their true value.

More than a little opposition to the re-appraisal is expected from the county farmers. A meeting of the farm bureau with the county commissioners which had been scheduled for Monday evening was postponed according to advice Tuesday. A discussion of the re-appraisal was to have been had at this meeting.

When a similar proposal was made last year, it resulted in an indignation meeting at the county courthouse, the size of which exceeded any similar meeting ever held before.

At that time representatives from every township in the county had something to say against the reappraisal. The result was there was no reappraisal.

It is considered highly probable that the hearing set for February 8 will bring forth another storm of protest that will equal the demonstration of last year.

BOARD MEETING TO TALK VACCINATION SET FOR TONIGHT

Consideration of compulsory vaccination for city school children was postponed from Monday evening to Tuesday evening because of the absence of two members of the school board from the city.

The matter is being pushed by Glenn E. Smith, city health officer, and it was considered certain Tuesday that some definite action would be taken immediately.

It is desired that the children be vaccinated to offset any children be a smallpox epidemic in Ohio such as is now raging in Kansas City. The smallpox there is of the old fashioned variety and reported to be extremely fatal.

Dr. D. M. Criswell, county health commissioner has received a warning from state headquarters similar to the one received by Smith and he was issuing notices to the county school boards Tuesday, urging them to require vaccination of the county school children.

Individuals are also urged to avail themselves of the protection afforded by successful vaccination.

BASKETBALL TEAM FROM LEGION POST PLAYS ZANESVILLE

The members of the Ralph Court right post No. 65 basketball team will leave on the westbound passenger train No. 103 this evening for Zanesville, where they are to clash with the fast Alpha Pi fraternity team.

The Alphas won from the Legion boys at the Central gym a few weeks ago by a close score.

The Ralph Court right post No. 65 team will lineup this evening as follows: Moore and Hanley, forwards; Milligan, center; Robson, Hogan and Holmer, guards.

The Legion team plays the Roscoe independent basketballs on the Central gym floor Wednesday night.

The game will be over in plenty of time for the fans to witness the main Legion wrestling bout at the Sixth St. theatre that evening.

WEATHER MODERATE ONE LONELY DEGREE

Tuesday was one degree warmer than Monday.

According to Mrs. Ada Jeffries, Briggist, local weather observer, the mercury registered 5 degrees above the cypher, Tuesday. A weather report from the steam plant of the Ohio Service Company, north Fourth-st. Tuesday, stated that the thermometer at that place registered 8 degrees above zero, or one degree warmer than Monday, which was 7 above at that place.

BIRTH NOTES

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Pete Steffe, of Clowville, Tuesday.

The daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. William Crowl, near Metham, Monday, has been named Edna May.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Norris, near New Moscow, Saturday night had not been named, Tuesday.

SOME FACTS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT THE 1921 REVENUE LAWS

Thousands of letters have reached the Bureau of Internal Revenue relative to changes in revenue legislation. Taxpayers desire to know the benefits to which they are entitled under the revenue act of 1921 by way of increased exemptions, lowered surtaxes and allowances for deductions for business expenses, losses, contributions, and bad debts.

The purpose of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is to answer the questions presented in a series of newspaper statements, of which this is the first. Taxpayers are advised to preserve the articles as they appear, in order that when they begin preparation of their income tax returns for the year 1921 they may have before them a comprehensive summary of the requirements of the new revenue act.

To the person of moderate income, probably the most important change is in the exemptions, or credits. Under the revenue act of 1921 a married person or head of a family whose net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less is allowed a personal exemption of $2,500. If the net income is more than $5,000, the personal exemption is $2,000. The exemption allowed a married person or head of a family under the revenue act of 1918 was $2,000, regardless of the amount of net income. Exemptions for dependents, also, are increased from $200 to $400. Thus, a married man with three children, whose net income for 1921 was $4,000, will pay this year an income tax of $12. On the same income for 1920 he paid a tax of $56.

Husband and wife living together receive but one personal exemption ($2,500 or $2,000 as the case may be). If they make separate returns, the exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

NORMAL TAX

To overcome the disparity in the normal tax in the case of two taxpayers, one of whom is just within the lower exemption of $2,000 (applying to income of more than $5,000) and the other just within the higher exemption of $2,500 (applying to income of $5,000 or less), the law provides that the reduction of the personal exemption for married persons and heads of families from $2,500 to $2,000 in such cases shall not operate to increase the tax which would be payable if the exemption were $2,500 by more than the amount of net income in excess of $5,000. For example, a married man had a net income for 1921 of $5,006. Without the benefit of the above provision, his tax, assuming he had no dependents, would be $120.24 ($5,006 less $2,000 equaling $3,006 at 4 per cent). His actual tax is $106.24 ($5,006 less $2,500 equaling $2,506 at 4 per cent, or $100.24, plus $6, the amount by which his net income exceeds $5,000).

There is no change in the exemption of $1,000 granted a single person or a married person not living with husband or wife. Nonresident aliens are allowed a specific exemption of $1,000 regardless of their marital status, and are allowed no exemption for dependents.

The normal tax of 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent on the remaining net income remains unchanged. This applies to citizens and residents of the United States. Alien nonresidents receiving income from sources within the United States are taxed to the full 8 per cent on income from such sources.

SURTAX RATES

Taxpayers are reminded that the surtax rates, which apply only to net income in excess of $5,000, also are unchanged for the year 1921. Letters received by the bureau indicate the impression in the minds of the writers that the lowered surtax rates are applicable to net income for the calendar year 1921. Under the revenue act of 1921, the surtax rates for that year range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent on the amount of net income in excess of $1,000,000. For the calendar year 1922, the surtax rates range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $6,000 and $10,000, to 50 per cent by which the net income exceeds $200,000.

The period for filing returns (if the taxpayer makes return on the calendar year basis) is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. This year, as last, the tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15. Forms 1040A for incomes of $5,000 and less, and 1040 for incomes in excess of $5,000, will be sent to persons who last year filed returns of 1920 income. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax within the time prescribed. Copies of these forms may be obtained at the offices of collectors of internal revenue, branch offices and banks.

The return, sworn to before a notary or other person authorized to administer an oath, must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives, or has his principal place of business.

Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to aid tax payers in making out their returns. Announcement of their arrival and the location of their offices will be made by collectors thru the press. The services heretofore offered city residents will be continued.

appointed, they are now looking for a replacement thru Genoa.

"But the restoration of the equilibrium of the world is a difficult task solved not by conferences but only by prolonged hard work and the cooperation of all people.

"It is now clear that Lloyd George wants a conference to achieve something towards settling this work going. He is now working, not, of course, for us, but at least along parallel lines. Russia and Germany will do everything in their power to make the conference a success. France's attitude is doubtful. Poincare will probably be forced like Briand, to adapt himself to circumstances and to adopt Briand's policy. But French politicians are provincial minded—brilliant but of limited vision, and do not realize the facts. So Poincare may be forced to hold aloof. But this does not matter much.

"France, for all her illusion that she is the arbiter of world politics, is really comparatively unimportant. America is another matter and all important. If America remains aloof, still pursuing her isolated enigmatic policy, the conference must fail and can only be, as it were, a rehearsal for another which must follow if world equilibrium is to be restored."

"What," I asked, "will be the attitude of Russia toward the question of reparations and revision of the Versailles treaty?"

"Reparations and the Versailles treaty are mere usurers' demands," Trotsky replied. "We shall be meeting the allies to discuss wider reparations—reparations the economic damage caused by war. That requires the cooperation of all peoples and the utilization of all the resources of every country in the world." Trotsky smiled. "The treaty has already been revised by facts," he said. "Our invitation to Genoa is in itself a revision of the treaty."

We spoke of the Karelia affair. "Litvinoff tells me," said Trotsky, "he has just received a proposal from the League of Nations that Poland act as a mediator between us and Finland. A charming proposal," he added with suave irony. "Poland is wonderfully qualified to act as a mediator between us and our attackers. And this League! Two of its members—Finland and Japan—are attacking us at this very moment. But the League does not concern us. It is only the shadow of a shadow. The Supreme Council we can recognize and deal with. It is a fact. The capitalist world is a fact. England is a fact—sometimes a hard fact—but recognizable as a fact which exists and must be reckoned with. Any fact which exists is an important thing. But this League is neither a fact nor does it exist. It is a mere phantom. How can we even recognize a phantom?"

I understand that the personnel of the Russian delegation for Genoa is now definitely decided, the no announcement may be made for some time.

MASSILLON WRESTLER WANTS A MATCH HERE

Paul Vallis, of Massillon, Greek middleweight wrestler, on learning that Farmer Jack Burns, of Springfield, O., was to appear in a bout at the Sixth Street theatre, Wednesday night, has issued a challenge to meet the farmer boy in a finish match.

Vallis intimated in his letter to the press here that he had been after Burns "scalp" for a month, but somehow Burns has failed to give him a match. Vallis does not deny that Burns is a good wrestler.

Vallis won over Kid Lewis in twenty minutes, he stated, and asserts that he can throw Burns just the same as he did Lewis.

Vallis' address is 105 West Tremont-st., Massillon.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

ADVICE FOR MOTHERS

You Cannot Afford to Overlook One Word of This

Cambridge, Ohio—"When my baby was six months old I had gone down in health with inward weakness so that I could not get around to do my housework or care for my baby. I was just about 'down and out' when I started to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The first bottle proved to me that I was taking the right medicine and six bottles helped me to get around to do my work as easily as before my illness. Favorite Prescription really did do wonders for me and I am glad to recommend it at every opportunity."—Mrs. M. E. Stephenson, 4711 Long St.

BUTLER SEES SOME RESEMBLANCE HERE TO CZAR'S COUNTRY

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and one of the bulwarks of American torism, in the annual report of the educational institution of which he is head, has sounded a warning that the United States is fast enmeshing itself in the practices of the Russia of the czars. The nation is courting this danger, he says, thru the multiplication and extension of so-called bureaus, with their hordes of officials spying on the people.

"One of the most noteworthy of recent developments of American life," he says, "is the zeal with which machinery is designed and built ostensibly to serve various public interests and undertakings, but in reality to control them. Perhaps in no other way is the decline of faith in liberty so clearly marked."

"In the United States we are, in flat defiance of all our proclaimed principles and ideals, building a series of bureaucracies that will put to shame the best efforts of the government of the czar of all Russia when in the heyday of all its glory."

"We are surrounded by agents, special agents, inspectors and spies, and the people are called upon to support thru their taxes in harmful and un-American activities whole armies of individuals who should be engaged in productive industry."

"It is now proposed to bureaucratize and to bring into uniformity the education system of the whole United States, while making the most solemn assurance that nothing of the kind is intended. . . . For Americans now to accept oversight and direction of their tax-supported schools and colleges from Washington would mean that they had failed to learn one of the plainest and most weighty lessons of the war. . . . Bureaucrats and 'experts' will speedily take the life out of the schools and reduce them to dire and stunted specimens of pedagogic fatuity."

GOVERNOR EDWARDS CRITICIZES COURTS IN LABOR DISPUTES

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 25.—Besides urging the abolition of the State Constabulary, Governor Edwards in his annual message to the legislature brings a formidable indictment against the attitude of the courts in labor disputes. He not only declares that employers actually have picked their judges to try such cases because of their known anti-labor bias of this judges, but arraigns the decision of some of the New Jersey vice chancellors forbidding unions to do anything to assist men on strike.

"In some instances," he says, "alleged strikers and their sympathizers have been summoned out of the localities where the disturbances occurred and have been compelled to journey to other counties to answer the process of the court. Some of the strikers have been tried for contempt in such counties and at considerable distance away from the place where the contempt was alleged to have been committed. This is contrary, it seems to me, to established principles of justice and equity and should not be continued."

CABINET DISCUSSES THE SUGAR TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. — The sugar situation in the United States and Cuba was discussed by President Harding's cabinet today, efforts being made to agree on a plan of government action which would not destroy the industry in Cuba and at the same time would not injure the sugar industry in this country.

Members of the cabinet agreed that limits should be placed upon the exporting of sugar from Cuba and that changes should be effected in the American sugar tariff.

Brabanconne is the national song of the Belgians, originally sung by the insurgents during the revolution of September, 1830. A young French player of the name of Jenneval was the author of the song, which was set to music by a singer named Campenhout. Jenneval fell in a combat with the Dutch at Berchem.—New International Encyclopedia.

To Put on Good Firm Flesh and Round Out Your Face and Figure

Get a FREE $1.00 Package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets Today as Explained Below—Try Them for Ten Days and Watch the Results

Science has at last shown how we sometimes grow weak, thin, and emaciated on an abundance of food (lacking in vitamins) while with a much smaller amount of food, rich in vitamins, we may quickly take on good firm flesh, increase in weight, and make a remarkable gain in strength, energy and endurance, provided your blood contains sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable your body to assimilate your food properly.

Without organic iron both food and vitamins are absolutely useless as your body cannot change lifeless inert food matter into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood.

For centuries scientists tried in vain to make organic iron. At last the problem was solved so that you may now obtain pure organic iron like the iron in your blood from any druggist under the name of "Nuxated Iron."

It has been arranged to give every purchaser of Nuxated Iron, who wishes to put on flesh or increase weight, a large regular $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free. Be sure to take only Nuxated Brand Yeast Vitamine Tablets with Nuxated Iron. No cut be misled by imitations which often contain drugs.

ORGY OF SPENDING CAUSE OF THE ILLS WORLD NOW ENDURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 — President Harding's national agricultural conference today took up the financial emergency confronting the farmer and the European situation as it affects American agriculture.

The beginning of the second day of the parley saw the conference committee begin the work of sifting the multitude of recommendations submitted from all parts of the country to aid agriculture.

"When the war was won," declared Wesley C. Mitchell of New York city, "we, like the English and French, civilians and demobilized soldiers, felt that a good time was due us. We had plenty of money and we spent it. On the financial side, the chief changes of 1919 were the lifting of the embargo on gold, the 'unpegging' of foreign exchange and the dropping of price control."

"Thus was produced the post-war boom which broke in the spring of 1920. That we did not have a panic in 1920 was due to the strength which the mobilization of reserves by the federal reserve system had given our banks, but the banks were able to prevent a panic, nothing could prevent a long and painful liquidation accompanied by a rapid descent toward the pre-war level."

Mitchell charged that the war time rise in the purchasing power of commodities over gold and the post-war fall in this purchasing power, are due to world causes and that remedies must be considered on a world wide and not merely a domestic basis.

THE TIME TO TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

When You Feel a Little 'Off' it Will Bring You Back to Health

Some people never need any medicine at all. They are, as the saying goes, "strong as a bull." They are mighty lucky. Most people need a good tonic once in a while. They take cold, or through overwork or social activity do not get enough sleep; many eat improper food and thus hurt the digestion. It is mighty wise to take Gaden's Pepto-Mangan with the needs for a few weeks and build up. One cannot have too much good health. Pepto-Mangan gives you plenty of red blood, and everybody knows that red blood means feeling good and looking good all the time. Sold by druggists in liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

SIZE OF AMERICAN ARMY MUST NOT BE CUT SAYS HARDING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. — President Harding is staunchly opposed to any drastic reductions in the size of the American army of 150,000 men, at this time, it was officially stated at the white house today.

President Harding feels, it was said, that the American army already has been cut down to reasonable limits, and that if the nations of Europe would cut their armies commensurately it would be "a world blessing."

SOME FACTS WORTH KNOWING ABOUT THE 1921 REVENUE LAWS

Forms for making returns of income for the year 1921 have been revised and simplified, and contain instructions which if carefully followed will be of material aid to taxpayers in the avoidance of errors.

Many of these errors are due to misunderstanding of the exemption allowed a head of the family, defined by Treasury regulations as a "person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, or whose right to exercise family control and support for these dependents is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemptions allowed a head of a family under the revenue act of 1921 are the same as granted a married person—$2,500 where the net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less and $2,000 where the net income exceeded $5,000. Circumstances surrounding each individual case determine largely whether a person is entitled to such exemption. A single person—the term including widowers, widows, and persons not living with wife or husband—is the head of a family if he is the sole support of one or more relatives living in the same house with him, and if he exercises control of household affairs. A married person living with husband or wife, in addition to the exemptions allowed such persons, can not claim exemption as the head of a family, irrespective of the support of others in the household.

Exemptions Not For All
Whether a person who does not continuously live in the same house with dependent relatives is entitled to the exemptions depends upon the character of the separation. If a parent is away on business part of the year or a child or other dependent is away on a visit, the common home being maintained, the exemptions may be claimed. If a parent is compelled to maintain his dependent children with relatives, or in a boarding house, the exemption may still apply. If, however, the dependent continuously and without necessity makes his home elsewhere than with his benefactor, the latter is not the head of a family, irrespective of the question of support. A taxpayer who is not the head of a family may still be allowed the exemption of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support, if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

taxes due under the revenue act of '21 and circumstances governing exemptions allowed a head of a family and for dependents:
A married couple living together with two children, 10 and 12 years old, had a net income for 1921 of $4,500. Their tax is $48, which is 4 per cent on $1,200, the amount of their net income less the exemption of $2,500 for married persons whose net income was less than $5,000, plus $400 for each dependent. The tax on the same income for the year 1920 was $84.

A married couple living together with two children, 10 and 12 years old, had a net income for 1921 of $6,000. Their normal tax is $128, which is 4 per cent on $3,200, the amount of their net income less the exemption of $2,000 allowed married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, plus $400 for each dependent. On the same income for 1920 the normal tax was $141.
A single person living at home and supporting an invalid mother and sister 17 years old had a net income for 1921 of $3,500. His tax is $8. He is allowed the $2,500 individual exemption granted the head of a family whose net income was less than $5,000, plus $400 for each dependent. (It should be noted that the $400 additional exemption for dependents does not apply to husband or wife, even though either one has become a total burden upon the other.) A single man lives with and supports a mother 50 years old and two sisters 19 and 21 years old. He is allowed an exemption as head of a family ($2,500) or $2,000, depending upon whether his net income was $5,000 or less or in excess of $5,000, but not the $400 exemption for dependents, since his mother and sisters are neither under 18 years of age nor mentally nor physically incapacitated.

BIG FERTILIZER COMPANIES WARN AGAINST MR. FORD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Warning that Henry Ford, with his Muscle Shoals development plan, is trying to "lead the way to a 'socialistic' invasion of the field of private competition," is issued by the National Fertilizer Association, recently notified with the Big Five meat packing interests.
"Do you want your government to engage in a manufacturing business on a tremendous scale in competition with private industry?" it asks.
"Do you realize that the Muscle Shoals project is being promoted as a means of initiating government competition—either directly by a straight out government operation scheme, or indirectly by subsidizing a single private interest; that a nation-wide propaganda is being conducted for such a plan, and it is actually gaining important support; and that it is simply the entering wedge for other socialistic schemes that would destroy private industry?"

The fertilizer combine suggests that the Ford offer for the use of the $50,000 horsepower at Muscle Shoals amounts to "taxing all the people to give one company an advantage over competitors," because the vast sum thrown into the past construction at Muscle Shoals will not be repaid by Ford when he gets the plant for the manufacture of fertilizers.

Cautiously enough, the fertilizer combine claims that the operation of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant would not solve the problem of cheap fertilizer; that, on the contrary, the cost of producing sulphate of ammonia—a standard fixed nitrogen fertilizer material—which is the product relied upon at Muscle Shoals, will be more than the wholesale price of this material. They argue that Ford is going to produce fertilizer at a loss, in order to get a lot of waterpower for other uses.

"It is a move toward state socialism that must be defeated," says the association's propaganda pamphlet sent to members of congress, "not only to save the fertilizer industry, but to save our present industrial system from destructive attacks."

BUILDING ACTIVITIES SOON TO BE RESUMED

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25.—Building operations close to $55,000,000 are expected to soon begin as a result of the end of the great building trades strike, it became known today.

The strike has been in progress for months and one by one the various unions agreed to wage reductions. The steam fitters were the last to give way. They wanted last year's agreement of $10.00 a day renewed. Contractors offered them $8.00 and a compromise was reached at $9.00 a day. Helpers will get $5.60. Several enormous office buildings are to be built immediately.

ADVENTURES OF TWO CROOKS IS

Amusing Paramount-Cosmopolitan Comedy Picture

The adventures of that inimitable pair—J. Rufus Wallingford and "Blackie" Daw, as sleek a pair of crooks as ever beat a board bill, will be disclosed in "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," a Paramount-Cosmopolitan production to be shown at the Sixth Street Theatre beginning tomorrow for a three days run. The picture is an adaptation of the famous stage success of the same name by George M. Cohan and is said to be a succession of hearty laughs from start to finish.

Sam Hardy in the Paramount Picture 'Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford' A Cosmopolitan Production.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" shows the good fortune that befell Wallingford and Daw in the little town of Battlesburg into which they had adventured to "clean up" the rich citizens.

On their arrival in Battlesburg the two decide it will be easy picking. Their persuasive powers wins almost instant success and the wealthy men of the town freely invest in their widest schemes.

Wallingford and Daw prepare to depart with their loot, but they find themselves too much interested in two of the town's girls. They remain and the outcome of their scheming forms a surprising and highly entertaining comedy.

The role of Wallingford is assumed by Sam Hardy with consummate ability. Norman Kerry makes a smooth, sniffling and suave partner for the chief crook, and Doris Kenyon is the pretty secretary who helps to win Wallingford over to honesty. The picture was directed by Frank Borzage, creator of "Humoresque."

Sooner or Later.
We may blind ourselves to our own real purposes, and refuse to recognize our motives or to accept responsibility for our influence, but this is possible only for a time. Sooner or later, at some turn of the road, we are bound to come face to face with ourselves.

ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN CALLED BEFORE THE JURY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A subpoena has been served on Col. Thomas W. Miller the alien property custodian, ordering him to appear before the federal grand jury in Boston on January 27, with all records bearing upon the sale by his predecessor, A. Mitchell Palmer, of the vast properties of the Bosch Magneto Co. which were seized by the government during the war, it was learned officially today.

The Bosch Magneto Co., now the American Bosch Magneto Co., was taken over by the United States as enemy-owned property in May 1918 and was sold by Palmer to Martin E. Kern of Allentown, Pa., on December 7, 1918, for $4,150,000.

Nugent As Prosecutor
 SEVERAL days ago the press dispatches carried an item to the effect that Governor Edwards of New Jersey, who made a spectacular bid for a presidential nomination as the friend of the liquor interests, has perpetrated a ghastly joke by the appointment of James R. Nugent of Newark, that state, to be public prosecutor of Essex-co.

Nugent's record is that of a notorious political boss and outbidding Edwards even, for the support of the liquor interests. He attracted a bit of unenviable notoriety years ago in a fight on then Governor Wilson and later opposed him from within the party when Wilson was president. Of late Nugent has been conspicuous as the personal counsel of those who find profit in violating the prohibition law.

This, of course, is not to be construed as saying that whisky runners and "bootleggers" are to be deprived of attorneys. Every man is entitled to his day in court, but it is also equally true that it is the height of abomination that a man of the type of "Jim" Nugent, the foe of political decency, should be entrusted with the enforcement of the law. A man so notoriously out of sympathy with law enforcement as he should have the grace to decline a task for which he is so clearly unfitted.

His mere appointment serves notice that the law will be disregarded in his particular bailiwick. His appointment in itself constitutes the essence of lawlessness. It is trite to say that Governor Edwards named him for the express purpose of flouting those who believe that every law should be enforced zealously and wholeheartedly. But practical jokes of this kind always prove costly to taxpayers, to civic decency, to governmental stability. Governor Edwards's act is essentially an act of anarchy and the only kind of anarchy of which we need have fear in the United States.

It goes without saying that the end aspired to in this case will be defeated by its own inherent rottenness. It is the hope of the Jersey governor and his political henchman, to make the prohibition law odious thru lack of enforcement. But the people of New Jersey cannot be fooled by temporizing of this kind. They will instantly recognize the kind of lawlessness that is going on in offices of trust and responsibility, a lawlessness that is more damaging to free institutions than the cruder anarchy of the "bootlegger."

Political methods of this kind never go unrebuked in an American community. It will not be long until the sober sentiment of the people of New Jersey will find vigorous expression in this instance.

Nine Years Of European Trade

THE bonanza days of American foreign trade, when exports to Europe rose to three billion, four billion, and almost to five billion dollars, are past, and, judging by the after effects, happily past. The year 1921 produced the most abrupt slump in foreign trade known to our history. Yet the European exports of 1921, measured in dollars, were nearly 60 per cent. greater than those of 1913, and measured in quantity, or in actual use values, were probably somewhat in excess of those of 1913. In other words, so far as exports go our trade with Europe last year, in a period of extreme depression, more than equalled the high water mark of the pre-war period.

The unhealthy condition of our European trade is shown, obviously, in the low level of imports. Last year's imports were valued at $760,000,000, whereas the imports of 1913 were valued at $865,000,000, but at least twelve hundred million 1921 dollars would be required to equal eight hundred and sixty-five million 1913 dollars. To put it the other way around, our last year's imports are not worth much more than half a billion dollars in 1913 money. This is serious enough, yet it was not until 1905—nine years before the outbreak of the great war—that our imports definitely and permanently passed the half-billion point.

Before the war our prosperity, as reflected in foreign trade, was by many business men measured by the excess of exports over imports. In 1913 this excess in the European trade approached $600,000,000, in the abnormal year of 1920 it was nearly $3,200,000,000, and last year it exceeded $1,500,000,000. This "favorable balance" is now recognized as an element of danger. Yet the fact that European buyers were able to obtain $1,500,000,000 worth of credit in the United States in extreme hard times, and after a large number of competent observers had declared Europe insolvent, testifies to the toughness of the commercial fabric. It also affords a basis for the hope that with the aid of new credit machinery erected to meet this precise situation our trade can be extended during 1922 and the recovery of Europe correspondingly hastened.

Our best European customer last year was Great Britain, which got $940,000,000 worth of goods and sold us $234,000,000 worth. Our next best customer was Germany, which got $375,000,000 worth of goods and sold us goods to the value of $80,000,000. French purchases amounted to $225,000,000, and French sales in this country to $142,000,000. Our trade with Germany as well as with the rest of Europe will probably increase. If it does, our interest in reparations and in the economic policies adopted by the Genoa conference will be something more than academic.—New York Globe.

WALT MASON
 SPRING IS COMING

Soon the winter will be gone from the haunts of freezing men, and the grass upon the lawn will be turning green again; verdure soon will run amuck, and we'll hear the quacking duck, and the earnest, thoughtful cluck of the busy setting hen. Oh, the wintery tempest blows, and it howls along the street; there is ice upon my nose and my ears are full of sleet; bleak the sky that o'er us bends, but the worst of winter ends, and we'll soon be telling friends that we're weary of the heat. Oh, winter isn't nice, when it blusters to and fro, and my shoes are full of ice and my hat is full of snow; but I try to dance and sing and be happy as a king, for I have a hunch that spring pretty soon her goods will show. And she has the finest line that a man could wish to see, singing birds on every vine, and a homing bumble bee; sweetest fragrance in the air, and a rosebud here and there, golden sunshine everywhere, and a flower budding here. Roughhouse Winter stays a while, filling us with discontent, heaping in a crazy pile snow that isn't worth a cent; but he soon is out of sight; then comes Spring, a bride in white, bringing comfort and delight to the breast of every gent.

SCIENTISTS REVOLUTIONIZE

Treatment for Thin, Nervous, Run-down, Anemic Conditions of Children, Adults and Aged People

For the first time since we have conducted our drug store we are able to offer to our customers a remedy for the above-named conditions that has been tested and approved by a famous nutritional scientist at one of our leading Medical Colleges. The remedy is known as SUSTO Nutritive Tonic Tablets.

At some time or other we all get tired out, run down, thin, nervous, de-vitalized, and are without energy or ambition so we are irritable and easily annoyed. This is because we are not getting a sufficient amount of the essential strengthening, life-giving, and growth-promoting elements from the food we eat.

Leading medical men of the country have for some time been advocating dietetic treatment instead of medicines for such conditions. Now science has come to our rescue and produced SUSTO. It has been tested for many months and approved by a Professor of Physiological Chemistry at one of our greatest American Medical Colleges. In the report of his tests he says: "In all cases of a general, run-down system, or in convalescence, SUSTO played a very important part in stimulating the appetite and increasing body weight. In every instance where under-nourished infants and children were given SUSTO, important body-weight increases were registered."

Therefore we feel very confident that our customers can find nothing better than SUSTO for all weak, thin, run-down, nervous anemic conditions, for feeble old people, and delicate children.

If you try it for one month and do not feel better in every way we will return your money.

NEW YORK LETTER
 Day-By-Day

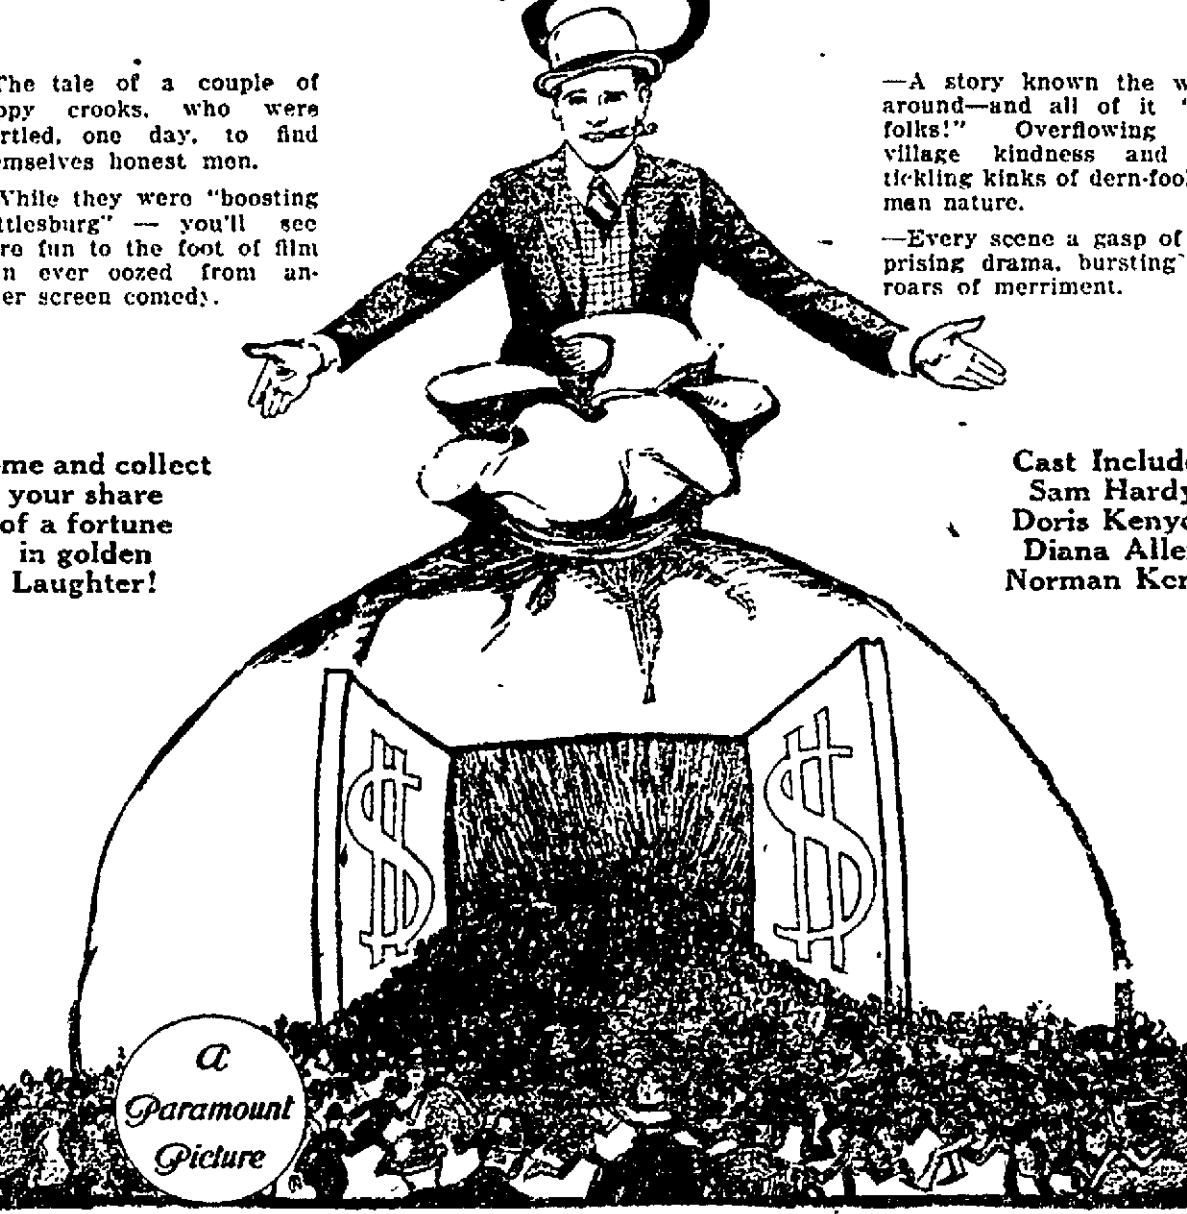

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—The descending gloom of prohibition has settled over Jack's—that famed night haunt of a few years ago. They came the other day and took $100,000 worth of liquors from a secretly built cache. As luck after truck rolled away a red nosed roysterer, with a breath one might chin himself on, stood at the curb and sadly wagged his head.

When the last truck moved off he suddenly exclaimed throatily after the fashion of Ethel Barrymore: "That's all The Fizz, there isn't any more!" Jack's used to be the gayest just at dawn when the cognoscenti came for their scrambled eggs and Irish bacon. His famous "Pick-me-Up" sent many home blithely to pay the rent or buy St. Louis—anything.

Men came in high hats and lavender capes and women in delicate decolette gowns and the morning hymn was dedicated to "Frankie and Johnny." Downstairs was the Battling Nelson Grill where Hipe Igoe and Tad might be found now and then thrumming their cigar box eukalales and singing of "dear old Greenwich Village" where the spinsters go for thrills.

sail thru the swinging doors to the middle of the car tracks, look about with bewilderment and wonder where he was when the cyclone struck. The waiters at Jack's were nearly all red headed and when anything started they seemed to drop from the chandeliers to form their famous "flying wedge."

Of course, one might get a tasty cocktail at Jack's but his specialty was straight whisky. It was Jack who complained one day that he tasted a bit of rust in his Bourbon. They emptied the barrel and sure enough they found a tack in the bottom.

Jack's was opened and is still conducted by John Dunstan. He began his career as a waiter at Burns' old place, a celebrated resort in the 80's. Jack worked hard, made friends and saved. When he opened his place the Burns' customers flocked to him. He sent his children to college and has made a fortune estimated at more than a million.

She was a little bored by it but tried to appear friendly but when she walked to her hotel with him and told him good-by she could not refrain from calling out: "Thanks for the peanuts and buggy ride."

IVAN LINOW WANTS
MATCH WITH BURNS ON COSHOCTON MAT

A telegram was received at the American Legion headquarters Wednesday morning from Ivan Linow, of Indianapolis, Ind., a wrestler of the heavyweight class, stating that he would challenge the winner of the Burns-Turk match, being staged at the Sixth Street Theatre this evening.

Linow requests that the telegram concerning the challenge be read to the fans at the ring-side tonight. According to Linow, if the winner accepts his challenge and if the promoters care to match him up with the winner, to wire or address him at Hotel Washington, Chicago.

In answer to the challenge made by Paul Vallis, Massillon Greek middleweight champion of the United States, Farmer Jack Burns asserted Thursday to the local press that he would wrestle Vallis for candy, chalk or marbles "if he is in the theatre tonight. 'I will take him on after the match tonight winner take all, if he is here,' stated Burns.

All is set for the wrestling card to-night at the Sixth Street theatre, which is being staged under the auspices of Ralph Courtwright Post No. 65.

The Owner of
"Silver King"

By MARVIN ST. JOHNS
Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

Danbury saw that the man was lying in the middle of the road, in imminent danger of being run down by the whirling automobiles that followed each other in a never-ending stream. He shook him, but the man did not respond. Then, lifting him in his arms, the young American carried him to the side of the highway and laid him down under a tree.

Automobiles and carriages streamed past them, but no one stopped to notice the recumbent man. For this was at Kempton Park, and one of the classic races of the year was to be run. The man had evidently fainted. He was elderly, thin, gaunt, wild-looking. Leaving him there, Danbury bought some sandwiches.

The man ate the sandwiches greedily, and presently seemed so far recovered as to sit up. He stared at his rescuer.

"Have they run the Victoria stakes yet?" he implored.

"Not, I believe, till three o'clock," Danbury answered.

"Then help me to the course. It's a matter of thousands," he looked at Danbury thoughtfully. "Help me there and I'll show you what an old man's gratitude means."

Half an hour later they were seated by the side as near the track as they could get.

"There!" the old man cried, as a poor-looking animal went by. "That's Silver King. He's being quoted at forty to one—a rank outsider. And he'll win—he's mine."

"That horse is yours?" ejaculated Danbury.

"Mine, every inch of him. And now I'm going to make your fortune," replied the other. "Listen!"

"Ten years ago Silver King was a Derby winner. Never mind what his name was then. He was mine, and I won ninety thousand pounds on him. It went in wine, women and song—squandered, sir, as easily as it came. I lost everything; I lost Silver King. He was sold to a millionaire. But his jockey misused him and he wouldn't run. Three months ago, I discovered him breaking his brave heart between the shafts of a hansom cab. I bought him for ten guineas cash. I had just a hundred pounds in the world. I rented a little cottage and barn in a wild part of Essex, and there I trained him. Twelve years old he is today, and at first it was a heart-breaking task. Often I thought the task was impossible, but I persevered. And at last the day came when I knew that I had again one of the swiftest steeds in this country. I hired a jockey and entered him for the Victoria stakes. I had fifty pounds left, and I borrowed two hundred more. I didn't spend anything on food. A loaf of bread is all I've had the last five days. Because, you see, sir, two hundred and fifty pounds placed on a forty-to-one shot means ten thousand if he wins. A fortune for me and a peaceful old age for Silver King. And he can't lose."

He started toward a tall man in a white hat who, standing on a stool, was shouting the odds. The horses were at the starting gate.

"Do you want to come in?" asked the old fellow, stepping short. "A hundred pounds will net you four thousand."

Danbury had five hundred—the balance of all he had put aside for his European tour.

"You're dead sure," he queried. "I'll wager four hundred."

"And you'll never regret it, son," answered the old man, and dragged him up to the bookmaker.

"Last chance!" the latter yelled. "What's the odds on Silver King?" queried the elder man.

"Fifty to one," answered the bookmaker briskly. "Want to make a bet? It's a sporting chance—there's horses has won. Four hundred?" He took the money and scribbled a memorandum in his book, handing Danbury the stub.

Danbury turned, tense with excitement, to see the horses racing down the field.

"He's winning!" yelled the old man at Danbury's side.

Blackberry had fallen back and Silver King had passed three of his competitors.

A roar went up. Blackberry was in the lead again. And Silver King had fallen to the rear. The horses quickened their stride. Blackberry was edging away from all. And poor old Silver King fell further and further away. He tailed away, his withers rocked like a boat in a storm, and as the yells of thousands showed that Blackberry had romped home Silver King came tolling along, last of the field.

When Danbury, stunned by his loss, turned round the old fellow was no longer at his side. The bookmaker was also gone. A little mob of winners was hunting for him with yells of rage. But Danbury never saw either of them again.

SOCIALIST INJECTS
SIZZLING REMARKS
INTO DEBATE ON BILL

BY LAURENCE TODD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Representative Meyer London has punctuated the long and painful debate in the House on the Anti-Lynching bill, promoted by Republicans and furiously resisted by southern Democrats, with some observations on the issue of the mobbing of I. W. W. and other persons threatening industrial autocracy.

"I deny that society as a whole is justified in taking human life," said the Socialist member. "I certainly deny that right to the individual or the mob."

"Since the war particularly, since human life has been cheap, and since young men of refinement have been taught to bayonet and kill their fellow men, mob violence has spread throughout the country, and mob action has become a national curse. It is no longer a sectional question. Nor does the colored race only suffer."

"Only two days ago it was reported that in the State of Louisiana a mob captured a lawyer who came to defend unpopular clients, members of the I. W. W. Whether they were I. W. W. men or not does not matter. It is not a crime in itself to be a member of that body. It is a form of industrial organization with which certain people disagree. A mob kidnapped and maltreated a lawyer, an officer of the court, engaged in the sacred duty of defending men in distress. The mob consisted in all probability of respectable gentlemen, of gentlemen of property."

"As a Socialist believing that the only salvation of the human race is love, guided by intelligence, and that the only process of human civilization should be obedience to the collective expression of an enlightened will, thru the duly chosen representatives of the people, I repudiate every form of mob action."

This application of the anti-lynching principle to gentlemen of property in the north as well as in the south, was alike displeasing to Republicans and Democrats. They were playing political football with the color question, knowing quite well that the Republicans would not enforce a Federal anti-lynching law if they passed it, and knowing that the Democrats would have the help of Republican gentlemen in their lynching activities in almost any locality where lynching was an established habit. This man, London, was trying to make the matter serious by bringing up the mobbing of a particular individual, when the gentlemen on both sides knew that this particular mobbing was due to the fact that some I. W. W. agitators had tried to organize the employees of Standard Oil properties in Louisiana and Texas.

"The nation can, if it desires, punish mob action," London told them. "The nation which assumed the power to enter every home in every state of the union and conscript every young man, can reach every criminal who deprives an American citizen of elementary rights guaranteed by the American constitution and by every tenet of civilized society. That power cannot be quelled. That power exists outside of the Fourteenth Amendment. That amendment, designed by its framers for the protection of the helpless, the submerged and unfortunate colored man, has by crooked lawyers been employed to serve for the protection of corporate interests. It has never been used to protect human life and dignity."

"London referred to the manner in which the negro was brought to America, his long struggle toward freedom, and the cruel hardships still laid upon him by his white brother. He spoke of the great American ambition, reflected in every secret society lodge room, to be superior."

"It is in the secrecy of the lodge room," he said, "that the humblest man in the full splendor of the regalia of his office becomes the supreme commander of the empire of the inscrutable frog pool."

Surely a Good "Catch."
There is a great deal that the king of Siam has to offer a wife. He has 20 palaces, a "Diamond City," a herd of white elephants, nearly two million pounds' worth of diamonds, pearls, rubies and other precious stones, a state harge with a hundred and twenty carmen, thousands of other royal barges, a share in 24 golden umbrellas and many other luxuries.
